NUMBER ONE CONCERN: HOMELESSNESS

My office has received THOUSANDS of emails and calls from individuals who are concerned about homelessness. I recently wrote an article about this issue for the May Inside Arden edition, and I would like to share it with you in case you didn't see it. The article can also be found at this link.

Work In Progress: 3 ways to reduce county's homeless

Many articles in Inside Sacramento have described the failure of local elected officials to address the homelessness crisis. I hear your frustration and take responsibility for the failure. The crisis continues to grow. With it comes more suffering and misery among those living in our open spaces, more hardships for small business owners, more blight and trash in neighborhoods, more aggressive confrontations between campers and residents, and more crime.

Three efforts are underway in the city of Sacramento and Sacramento County that could significantly reduce the number of people living unsheltered while eliminating the worst impacts of encampments. I am working on these efforts and want your feedback.

Sheltering Ordinance

In response to challenges caused by encampments, the City Council has placed a proposed ordinance on the November ballot that would generally require the city to provide enough shelters and safe sleeping spaces for those who need them. In return, camping in public places would not be allowed under most circumstances.

The ordinance would allow people to bring legal action against the city if it does not remove encampments. I am having discussions with one of my colleagues at the Board of Supervisors, our county executive, and others about the proposal and the importance of passing a county ordinance that largely mirrors it.

These conversations obviously include a discussion about what social services the county will provide and how many shelter and housing alternatives the county would need. My hope is that we enact a county ordinance that compels us to create more shelters, supportive housing and behavioral health beds.

As a companion piece, I plan to introduce an ordinance that would prohibit camping near sensitive infrastructure, such as schools, flood-control facilities and transportation structures.

Coordinated Entry

A big challenge is that many local governments and nonprofit service providers work in silos. They control their own housing and shelter capacity. Sometimes they guard against making it available to outsiders. Unfortunately, this crisis is regional, not isolated. Any effort in one part of the county has a ripple effect. We have to do a better job combining resources and centralizing our referral and placement efforts. Sacramento Self Help Housing is the organization the county and city use to coordinate access to shelter and supportive housing, but it needs help to be successful. The city has made an investment to give Self Help the tools it needs. I am hopeful the county will follow and coordinate these efforts.

County Sites

The ordinance and coordination discussed above will be meaningless unless we develop more capacity. We must dedicate more locations for safe camping, car camping, sleeping in individual cabins, transitional housing and permanent supportive housing. Each of these must come with security, restrooms, showers and social services to guide people to long-term treatment and housing.

The Board of Supervisors will hold a public workshop in the next couple months to present county-owned locations and other spaces to provide capacity.

None of the sites presented at the upcoming board meeting will be selected until there is public input and discussion. I will work to make sure any sites we use to shelter or house the homeless are not overly concentrated in certain communities. I also plan to introduce an ordinance that will prohibit camping near any sites that house the homeless. This will be a crucial tool to make sites safe for surrounding neighborhoods and the homeless who are placed there.

I am confident our efforts to create better coordination, capacity and consequences will make a difference. They will give us the authority to stop enabling destructive behavior while recognizing our obligation to help those in need with compassion and understanding.

SHERIFF COMMUNITY MEETINGS – NORTH DIVISION

ATTEND THE UPCOMING SAC COUNTY VIRTUAL CAREER FAIR

On May 17, all job seekers are invited to the 2022 Sacramento County Virtual Career Fair to meet County department representatives and get details on available jobs, day-to-day work activities, and what it is like to grow your career at the County.

As the region's third-largest employer, Sacramento County has more than 12,700 employees working across 30 departments and offices in fields such as voter registration, parks, technology, finance, health care, waste management, social services and law enforcement. The jobs County employees do, and the services they provide, improve the lives of our residents and our community.

At this Virtual Career Fair, job seekers will be able to virtually "visit" various departments' booths. They will have the opportunity to speak to representatives from 24 different departments and offices to learn about a wide range of careers. Job seekers can also request one-on-one conversations with representatives from departments they are particularly interested in. There will be two application and exam process presentations, one at 10 am and another at 12 pm, where Department of Personnel staff will share helpful tips when applying for County positions.

Breeding Birds of Sacramento: A Tale of Two Atlases and Three Decades of Change, on May 24, 2022.

We all know how much the Central Valley has changed in the past few decades – increased development, changes in agriculture, changing climate. But how has all that affected our breeding birds? Ed Pandolfino will take us through the results of the recently completed Second Sacramento County Breeding Bird Atlas to answer that question. This new Atlas is a follow up to an earlier Atlas effort led by Tim Manolis, completed in the early 1990s, but not published until now.

SUMMER MOSQUITO SPRAYING UPDATES

The Sacramento-Yolo Mosquito & Vector Control District is gearing up for the mosquito season by preparing to remove any invasive mosquitoes in our area.

As part of Mosquito & Vector Control District's control strategies, they will be doing ground treatment targeting immature mosquitoes developing in common backyard sources. All this means is that a truck will go up and down the designated route spraying into the air - the material is meant to go into small backyard sources and target immature mosquitoes that may be developing in the area to prevent them from hatching into adults that can bite people and pose a health threat.

If you would like to sign up for notifications in your area, you can do so on the Sacramento-Yolo Mosquito & Vector Control District website.

You can also request service in your area if you are having a mosquito problem. Request service through the Vector Control District website by emailing at info@fightthebite.net, or calling 800-429-1022.

ALCOHOL BAN KEEPS PARKWAY FAMILY FRIENDLY

If you are planning to enjoy the American River Parkway over the Memorial Day holiday weekend, there will be a complete ban on alcohol consumption and possession both on land and in the water between Hazel and Watt avenues (an exception exists for Ancil Hoffman Golf Course).

A number of years ago, there were major problems along the American River due to excessive alcohol consumption. This resulted in fights, public nudity, profanity and littering, and drove some families away.

Besides Memorial Day weekend, the alcohol restriction is also applicable on the weekends of Independence Day and Labor Day. In addition, the Board of Supervisors delegated authority to the Director of Regional Parks, in consultation with the County Executive, to prohibit alcohol in the Parkway on any additional days between Memorial Day and Labor Day when such a ban is needed to maintain order when excessive alcohol consumption is encouraged by social media.
