COUNTY SUPERVISOR

"Life is a great tapestry. The individual is only an insignificant thread in an immense and miraculous pattern." – Albert Einstein

As I was contemplating what to write for this month's intro, the featured articles inadvertently created a theme: growing older and things worth remembering. There is only one undesirable way to avoid the former and the harsh truth is most of us will scarcely achieve the status of the latter.

When I was a child, someone told me of a professor who was teaching a class on anthropology or recorded history, or some such subject. In order to illustrate his point, the professor stood at the top of the steps in the back of the lecture hall and rolled out an entire roll of toilet paper – all of humankind's time on earth wouldn't even fill a single sheet, he told the class. Our lives, then, are a single clap in the overall applause.

As a way of setting expectations for a community meeting recently, I called attention to the fact that the subject of the meeting was bigger than any of us individuals in the room currently. It is a tough pill to swallow, sometimes, that the things we are working so diligently to accomplish will outlive us. However, it is powerfully humbling to take one's ego out of the equation and focus on what is worth preserving for future generations.

Anyway, it did the trick and focused attention away from potential personality conflicts and toward what is really important: making sure that our history can be learned, our past is honored and a very special place in time persists so it's not forgotten.

God willing, we will all grow older, so enjoy reading about efforts to create a more age-friendly society and how we recognize some seasoned folks for their contributions. Also, I invite you to maybe get out and enjoy a museum to spend a little time admiring those things worth remembering, be they old or new.

As always, please share this newsletter with a friend or neighbor and encourage them to subscribe for future newsletters or check out my Facebook page here.

Older Americans Month

May is Older Americans Month, a time to honor the contributions of older adults and celebrate the role they play in strengthening our communities. It's also a fitting time to reflect on how we can better support residents as they age.

In February, my colleagues and I adopted the Local Aging & Disability-Friendly Action Plan (LADAP), reinforcing the County's long-term commitment to supporting residents as they age and manage disabilities. Our County is proud to join the California Department of Aging and AARP's Age-Friendly Network of States and Communities in a shared mission: building a more inclusive and accessible future for older adults and people with disabilities.

The plan aligns closely with the bold goals of California's Master Plan for Aging, which focuses on:

1. Housing for All Stages & Ages – Promoting affordable and accessible housing.
2. Health Reimagined – Expanding healthcare access and wellness programs.
3. Inclusion, Not Isolation – Strengthening community connections and reducing loneliness.
4. Caregiving That Works – Supporting caregivers and improving long-term care systems.
5. Affording Aging – Tackling economic challenges for aging populations.

With projections showing that by 2030, one in four Sacramento County residents will be age 60 or older, and nearly one in three will be either older or living with a disability, there is no better time to act. The LADAP was built and shaped from community listening sessions and public feedback. Its central message is clear, improving access to essential resources is critical, whether that means housing, transportation and mobility for all abilities, healthcare, language support, employment opportunities, or simply being treated with dignity. The goal is to design communities that work for everyone, regardless of age or ability, while fostering the love and support of family, friends and neighbors. This is the vision of what it means to be age and disability friendly in our County.

Every May, to coincide with Older Americans Month, the Board of Supervisors and the County's Adult and Aging Commission recognize outstanding older adult volunteers through the "5 Over 50" Awards, spotlighting individuals age 50+ who are making a meaningful difference in the community.

This year's District 5 honoree is none other than Tony Rutchena, better known to many as "Coach Tony." For over a decade, Tony has mentored students at Arcohe Elementary School and Lake Canyon Elementary in the Galt and Herald communities, supporting sports teams, garden programs, school events and after-school activities, including the ever-popular chess club. Coach Tony has also been instrumental in transforming Arcohe school's gardens from barren spaces into vibrant, welcoming areas for the students and staff. Over the years, Tony has built water fountains, a greenhouse, an irrigation system, planters and more, involving student participation all along the way to encourage hands-on learning and gardening skills. Coach Tony exemplifies the spirit of service and I am proud and honored to recognize him with this year's "5 over 50" Award for District 5.

Last year's District 5 winner, Faye Gaines, is another remarkable community leader, recognized for her work as CEO and Director of the Sunshine Food Pantry and Resource Center, Inc. in Galt. Faye and her team provide food and resources to thousands of residents each month, serving as a lifeline for families in need and a cornerstone for support.

The Adult and Aging Commission is impressively made up entirely of volunteers who monitor services, track trends and give a voice to the needs of older adults and people with disabilities. The Commission reports directly to the Board of Supervisors and helps shape County policies and resources for our senior population.

If you're interested in joining the Commission, please consider applying to serve. Read more on the commission and how to apply here. For those that may have a future "5 Over 50" honoree in mind, keep an eye out for next year's nomination period, typically open in February.

Together, we can make Sacramento County a place where everyone, regardless of age or ability, has the opportunity to thrive.

Celebrating International Museum Day

Museums across the Sacramento region are opening their doors on May 18th with special exhibits and interactive events in celebration of International Museum Day 2025, a global initiative that highlights the essential role museums play in education, culture and community connection.

Organized by the International Council of Museums (ICOM), International Museum Day has been celebrated globally since 1977. Last year, more than 37,000 museums in over 150 countries participated, and Sacramento's growing cultural sector is proud to be part of this worldwide initiative, blending local stories with global themes.

This year's theme, "Museums for Education and Research," resonates strongly in Sacramento, where our institutions are increasingly embracing innovative programs to engage learners of all ages. With 32 museums and cultural destinations, the region offers several unique opportunities for learning and exploration. Whether you're drawn to art, history, science or wildlife, our local museums offer immersive experiences designed to spark curiosity and foster lifelong learning.

Some of the standout museums located within District 5 include:

Sacramento Children's Museum

(SCM) - The first children's museum in the Sacramento area, SCM provides hands-on learning opportunities for kids from birth to age eight years old. The SCM provides a place where children are encouraged to think for themselves, expand their problem-solving abilities through creative exploration and exercise both for their bodies and their minds. Learn more here: Sacramento Children's Museum.

Elk Grove Historical Society - Specializing in preserving and sharing the history of Elk Grove, the Elk Grove Historical Society provides the community with access to their extensive archives and collections. In addition to being the central historical research center of Elk Grove, the Society also hosts a number of speaker series, guided tours, historical bus trips and yearly special events. For more information visit: Elk Grove Historical Museum.

Locke Boarding House Museum - Built in 1909 to house the workers of the Southern Pacific Railroad, the Locke Boarding House is now part of the California State Parks system and highlights the rich heritage of Locke, a historic Chinese American town. Also designated as a National Historic Landmark, the Boarding House features displays depicting traditional Chinese farming practices and the daily lives of the early residents of the community. While in Locke, make sure to also visit the Chinese School Museum, the Dai Loy Gambling House and the

Jan Ying Museum! Learn more at: Locke museums.

Mills Station Arts & Cultural Center (MACC)- Located in Rancho Cordova in the historic Mills Station Building, built in 1911, the MACC has become a vibrant arts and cultural hub for the community. Brought to you by a collaboration of the City of Rancho Cordova, Sacramento Regional Transit, Sacramento County, and the Cordova Community Council, the MACC offers concerts, rotating exhibits, workshops, historical displays, cultural demonstrations and special presentations, all celebrating local artists. Visit their website for more events and exhibit information: MACC.

Whether you're learning about Native American history at the State Indian Museum, stepping back in time at Sutter's Fort to learn about the Gold Rush era, admiring classic cars at the California Automobile Museum or inspiring future generations of explorers at the Aerospace Museum of California, with so many options right in our backyard, you're sure to find something that will spark an interest.

Many Sacramento museums also offer virtual content through live-streamed tours and educational videos, making it easier than ever to engage with history and culture. Whether experienced in person or online, International Museum Day is an opportunity for residents and visitors alike to reconnect with the region's past and look ahead to its future. In Flanders Fields

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.
We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved and now we lie,
In Flanders fields.
Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.
